

Mereside
Church of England Primary Academy
Learn to Love, Love to Learn

Year: 5

Subject: RE

Title:

What matters most to Humanists and Christians?

What key knowledge do I need to have before this unit?

- Understanding right and wrong behaviour
- Knowing that people have beliefs that guide their actions
- Being able to talk about values like kindness and honesty

Key outcomes:

- I can explain why people are good and bad.
- I can describe how Christians and Humanists decide how to live.
- I can compare Christian and Humanist values.
- I can explain why rules or moral codes are important.
- I can ask and answer questions about what matters most in life.
- I can explain my own values and give reasons for them.

Key knowledge:	Key Vocabulary	Definition
• People often follow a code for living to help them make good choices. • Some people are religious (e.g. Christians) and believe being good is linked to God. • Some people are non-religious (Humanists) and believe you can be good without God. Christian beliefs: - Humans are made in the image of God but can make wrong choices (the Fall). - Jesus taught people to: Love others, Forgive, Help those in need (e.g. The Good Samaritan) - Christian values include: Love, Forgiveness, Peace, Honesty, Worship and fellowship Humanist beliefs: - Humanists believe people should: • Be honest • Use their mind • Tell the truth • Treat others how they want to be treated	Forgiveness Freedom Humanist Code Peacemaker Values Justice Fairness	Choosing to stop being angry at someone for something they have done The ability to make your own choices Someone who believes people can be good without God A set of rules or ideas to guide behaviour A person who helps solve problems and bring peace Beliefs about what is right, wrong, and important Fair treatment and doing what is right Treating people equally and properly